CHEYLA'S STORY

Years ago during my time in vet school, many dogs were taken from a pit bull fighting ring in Georgia and some of the vet students were asked to care for the most ill and aggressive of the dogs. I was shown three puppies, one of which was very ill and not moving. The staff at the facility had no interest in saving the puppy and said she was too aggressive and ill.

With help from the Dean of my school, I was able to take this puppy for treatment. She was weak with a large knife wound between her shoulder blades, had pneumonia, was covered in mange mites, and very malnourished. I named her Cheyla Tiella. Getting medication into her was difficult as she was very aggressive. The better she felt, the more aggressive and afraid she became.

At Thanksgiving, I took her home with me, wondering how this aggressive puppy would get along with my other dogs who were 3 and 13. As soon as we got there, Cheyla escaped from the car and viciously ran to attack! Kayla, my 3 year old, pinned her to the ground and licked her all over, like a mother dog licks a pup. Instantly, Cheyla relaxed, followed Kayla everywhere and mimicked her actions. She was able to be fed like a normal dog and quickly became house trained. After two years, to her surprise and ours, she finally wagged her tail.

Today, Cheyla is 10 years old and a very loving family companion. In all the years, she has given me unconditional love and snuggles. Turns out, all she wanted was love.
